

Emerging artists Series 2019

Inspiring the talent of tomorrow

We are thrilled to announce the 2019 Emerging Artists series, an exciting initiative hosted by Theme & Variations Piano Services. Commencing in April this series provides talented young pianists the opportunity to prepare and perform a solo recital on a Steinway Concert Grand in front of a live audience. With adjudication from Prof. Michael Brimer, each concert features three or four pianists nominated by their respective high schools or universities.

Solo performance opportunities outside of eisteddfods and examinations for young pianists are rare. The more a pianist can experience performing live, the better musicians they will become.
